Where can I get information about programs and service in Pennsylvania for people with disabilities?

Pennsylvania does not have a central phone number or website where you can find information about all of the programs or services it offers.

The Pennsylvania Department of Public Welfare (DPW) coordinates all health related programs for people with disabilities in PA who qualify for the services. This includes Medicaid, Medicare supplemental payments, home and community based services and other. It publishes information about disability services on its' website. You can also call them at 1-800-692-7462. They will probably refer you to your local County Assistance Office. Its website, though very comprehensive is <http://www.dpw.state.pa.us/fordisabilityservices/index.htm>

Your local Count Assistance Offices (CAO) listed in the Pennsylvania Resources section of this guide, can also provide you with information about benefits and services and help you apply for them. This is the best place for you to start.

You can also call the Link to Aging and Disability Resource Center at 1-866-286-3636 for information and referral for disability services. They can only refer you to others and the information they have is very limited.

The Office of Vocational Rehabilitation (OVR) of the Pennsylvania Department of Labor and Industry provides comprehensive services to assist Pennsylvanians with Disabilities to get or keep a job. Their specific services are described below under Pennsylvania Work-Related Resources. You can find contact information for OVR listed in the Pennsylvania Resources section of this guide.

*****Keep in mind that according to the Aging and Disability Resource Center hotline, the HelpPA website <https://www.helpinpa.state.pa.us/> is no longer updated on a regular basis and is out of date. Do not use it.*****

What do I need to know about Medicaid in Pennsylvania?

Medicaid in Pennsylvania is called Medical Assistance (MA). If you qualify for SSI Pennsylvania, automatically gives you Medicaid. Pennsylvania originally decided not to expand Medicaid under the Affordable Care Act. Pennsylvania has since agreed to expand Medicaid. The expansion will take place beginning in 2015 and will increase the allowable income ceiling to 138% of the poverty level or $16,104.60 in 2014.

Pennsylvania pays SSI recipients in Pennsylvania a supplement or addition to the amount of money Social Security pays. The amount varies based on where you live and if alone, with other people, or in congregate living, or a long term care facility.

Adapted from Social Security Administration, (2014, January) Supplemental Security Income (SSI) In Pennsylvania SSA Publication No. 05-11150

Depending on where you live in the state, you will receive MA services in Pennsylvania through either fee-for-service or Medicaid Managed Care. All MA recipients receive an ACCESS card and if you receive your MA through fee-for-service, you will use your ACCESS card as your insurance card.

HealthChoices is the name of one of Pennsylvania's mandatory manage care organizations for MA. HealthChoices covers people by zones as follows:

Home and Community Based Services are provided under a Medicaid waiver and are discussed below.

Medical Needy Only Program

When you have a disability but have too much income to qualify for MA in Pennsylvania, you may obtain medically needy eligibility through the Medical Assistance Spend Down Program. This program has an income and resources test. Under the spend-down program, individuals may deduct medical expenses, both paid and unpaid, to reduce their incomes to the medically needy eligibility level. Deductible medical expenses are limited to those incurred within the three month period prior to applying for MA, provided they were not previously deducted to meet a spend-down. When income less medical expenses meets the income criteria, medically needy eligibility is established and the individual qualifies for MA for the remainder of the period.

How do I apply for Medicare Savings Programs in Pennsylvania?

If you answer yes to these 3 questions, contact your local county assistance office to see if you qualify for a Medicare Savings Program in Pennsylvania:

1. Do you have, or are you eligible for, Part A?
2. Is your income for 2014 at, or below, the income limits below?
3. Do you have limited resources, below the limits below?

It's important to call or fill out an application if you think you could qualify for savings—even if your income or resources are higher than the amounts listed above. because not all income is counted. Certain resources, such as the house you live in, are not counted. You can find your local county assistance office location and contact information in the Pennsylvania Resources at the end of this guide.

Does Pennsylvania have Medigap insurance for me if I am under 65 and on Medicare?

MEDIGAP INSURANCE: Pennsylvania is one of 29 states currently that requires insurers to sell at least some types of Medigap policies to beneficiaries under 65.

What work incentive programs are available to me in Pennsylvania?

Medical Assistance for Workers with Disabilities

In Pennsylvania, the Medicaid Buy-in Program is called Medical Assistance for Workers with Disabilities (MAWD). MAWD offers people with disabilities who are working, and whose income would otherwise make them ineligible for Medicaid, the opportunity to pay a small premium and receive full Pennsylvania MA coverage. Working disabled adults (age 16 through 64) obtain MA coverage through the MAWD program by paying the Department of Public Welfare a premium equal to 5 percent of their monthly income. The 5 percent is figured after deductions for impairment-related work expenses and other deductions in place to encourage you to work.

To qualify, your income must be less than 250% of the federal poverty level or $29,175 for 2014. You cannot have asset of more than $10,000. Plan for Achieving Self-Support (PASS)—PASS accounts are excluded from the asset test for former recipients of SSI

National Spinal Cord Injury Association Pennsylvania Chapters:

Northeast Pennsylvania Chapter

The National Spinal Cord Injury Association Northeast Pennsylvania Chapter (Individual Abilities in Motion) is a non-profit organization whose purpose is to help people discover, develop, and celebrate abilities.

The I AM organization is a collaborative effort to enrich the lives of individuals with spinal cord injuries using a multi pronged approach to support, challenge, and inspire. Some of the ways we work towards this goal is by promoting sports, adventure activities, community outings, and public awareness, thus providing avenues for someone to try something new, stay active and hopefully open one's mind to other possibilities. Ultimately, we aspire to support living and loving life. <http://www.spinalcord.org/chapters/nepa/>
